

Changes within living memory

How is our life different from our grandparents?

Sticky Knowledge

Did you know that 5 billion people around the world use the internet?

What is living memory?

Living memory means there are people who are alive who can tell us about what has happened or what life used to be like.

Key Vocabulary

past	A time that has already gone by.
present	Something which is happening at this moment in time.
future	Something which will happen.
old	Something which was used in the past.
new	Something which is currently used.
source	Something which provides evidence about the past.

Transport: The way people have been able to get around has changed over time.

1825

People were able to travel on the first steam train.

1885

The first bicycle was invented with wheels the same size

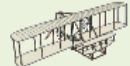

1885

The first cars were invented in Germany

1903

The Wright brothers flew the first successful aeroplane

1940

The first helicopter

1950s

Modern buses

1952

Jet planes could take people on holidays

1961

First flight into space

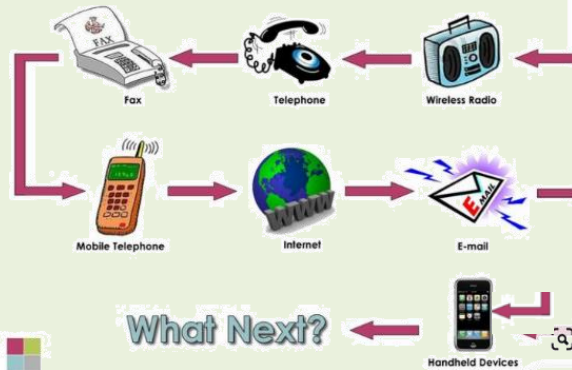

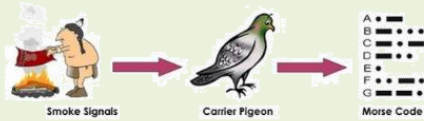

1990s

Modern cars

Communication: Exchanging information through speaking, writing or other forms.

What Next?

Did you know that they used to send messages by pigeon?

Toys: An object for a child to play with. Usually a copy of something bigger.

1902

The Teddy Bear was created

1903

The first wax Crayons were invented

1949

Plastic Lego was made

1959

The first Barbie was created

1989

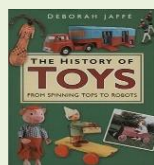

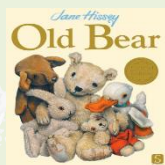

The first Game Boy was invented

2016

Hatchimals were made

Useful Books...

Home learning task: Interview a member of your family to find out about their childhood growing up. You might want to find out about the toys they played with, the transport they used or how they used to communicate with their friends and family. Are there any similarities or differences? Write questions and record their answers or interview them and upload your video to Seesaw to share with class for the week beginning 29th January.